Mission Nightfall

The Game

At the heart of the Mission Nightfall game concept lies a clear mission: A stolen AI is manipulating global financial markets. An undercover agent has been captured. The shutdown codes are secured analog in the "Plan B" puzzle box.

The participating teams infiltrate Cross Industries, overcome security levels, collect dial values, and ultimately deactivate Nightfall together in the final mission.

The Objectives

Everyone must participate in solving puzzles and making decisions together. No one can complete the mission alone.

Players must exchange information, analyze clues, and communicate clearly under time pressure.

Puzzles and scenarios are designed for teams to plan, assign roles, and prioritize effectively.

Shutting down the Nightfall system requires multi-authorization, reflecting reliance and trust within the team.

The challenges will combine both physical and digital elements, pushing teams to think outside the box and discover new solutions.
